RICHMOND THEATRE

Enid Bennett, the dainty Thomas H. Inch-Paramount, star, will be seen in her new photoplay, "When Do We Eat?" at the Richmond tonight.

This is an exceptionally interesting story of life in the Middle West. Miss Bennett portrays the role of an actress who is a member of an Uncle Tom's Cabin company which falls into the hands of the sheriff and which event opens a new career for the little player.

The supporting players are the best the Ince studio can produce.

WORKERS DEMOBILIZING

Civil Agencies Begin Cutting Down Staffs; Records to be Preserved

Washington, Nov. 20.—Many steps in the process of dismantling Washington's war machine, or in converting it into a recontructing agency, were taken yesterday.

That the War Industries Board will not be continued on anything like the scale heertofore maintained became evident when Chairman B. M. Baruch notified all division heads, section chiefs and regional advisors as they retire from office not to destroy any of the records and data collected during the war.

With the release of regulation over many industries these division heads and others find their job gone and, it was stated by one, January 1 will find most of the units of the organization back at their pre-war businesses.

A large cut in the number of employes of the Food Administration is understood to be scheduled for today While the cut or the manner of dismissal is not announced it is understood that the employes whose services the Food Administration has no further need of, are to be given a month's pay and their resignations accepted.

Frank P. Walsh, joint chairman with Former President Taft, of the National War Labor Board, tendered his resignation to President Wilson yesterday.

GRAND THEATRE

When on October 25, 1915, the Kaiser shook his fist in the face of Ambassador James W. Gerard and told him that after the war was ended he would stand no nonsense from the United States he did not realize that the patience of Americans would soon reach the breaking point.

The whole series of incidents, the plot and intrigue, the broken promises, the deliberate disregard of all the rights of a friendly nation in the insane desire to rule the world is clearly shown in the wonderfully vivid motion picture "My Four Years in Germany."

Every American should see this picture so that he can better understand why America must stand united against this common foe.

The picture will be shown at the Grand Theatre tomorrow and Friday commencing both days at 2 p. m.

King George and the Prince of Wales will review the Grand fleet at Rosyth on Wednesday. Later GtakenoerbaGa-2nmir mor mor mo r the fleet will sail for the rendezvous assigned for the surrender ceremony.

BURGLARS' BIG HAUL

Clothing Valued at $200 Stolen From Eddy and Gerber's Store and $17 in Cash—Hole Bored Through Cellar Floor.

Burglars Monday night robbed the clothing store of Eddy and Gerber, southwest corner of King and Alfred streets and got away with clothing valued at $200 and $16.99 in cash.

The robbers effected an entrance through the cellar door on the Alfred street side of the place. In order then to gain entrance into the store they used a brace and bit and bored a hole into the flooring and then removed sufficient flooring in order to make an opening sufficient to admit a man's body.

The thieves were select in choosing the articles stolen, for they took some of the best overcoats, raincoats and caps and other articles in the house which had just been received by the firm.

The proprietors of the place have no clew to the robbers.

The robbery was discovered yesterday morning when the establishment was opened.

ARMY BACKS PEOPLE

Belief Here That Dutch Will Not Listen to Reds.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Information of a very recent date to an important citizen of Holland here is to the effect that the Red Flag will make no progress in the Netherlands for these reasons:

The personnel of the army has shown no signs of unrest for many years.

The wide divergence of interests of the people of Holland from those of Russia and the German factions which have lately become radically socialistic.

The racial difference between the Dutch and their neighbors across the line and especially between them and the anarchistic elements of Russia.

According to this information it is held that the most potent factor is the racial difference and modes of thought in Holland which as a country is even less revolutionary than Switzerland and the army is just as conservative as the general public. The army is very close to the people and is loyal to the political powers in Holland. It is believed that it was the characteristics of common sense of the people as well as the sentimental fact that the Hague is the capital of the whole world in matters affecting the general peace which will cause the Dutch to turn a deaf ear to the overtures of the Reds from any quarter what ever.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD

Newspaper readers who have been accustomed to finding in the fiction supplements of Sunday papers only the reprints of out-of-date novels have a pleasant surprise in store for them in the new tabloid fiction magazine section of "The Phiadelphia Record."

On next Sunday November 24th, E. Phillips Oppenheim's great German spy story, "The Zeppeln's Passenger," will begin in "The Record." The story is a masterpiece of diplomatic intrigue, mystery and swift-moving events, crowded with thrills of danger, daring and suspense. The plot is ingenious and baffling and on the face of it is inherently improbable, but plausible enough when you are furnished at last with the clues which govern its action.

The story is laid in a sleepy little English coast town, where the Zepp lands its "passenger" unknown to the villagers—but they find a derby hat. There the wonderful story starts. In "The Zeppelin's Passenger" Oppenheim is at his best—which means that all who begin the story next Sunday in "The Record" will see it through to the finish.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—Fire yesterday morning almost destroyed the steamer Barnstable, while moored to a local pier and for a time threatened to spread to two other vessels moored nearby. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The blaze is supposed to have started from oil-soaked waste becoming ignited. REVOLT SPIRIT IN ARMY

Two Captured U. S. Aviators Claim Disruption of Germany Evident on Nov. 6.

Two American aviator captives, just released by the Germans, and in a dying condition from privation, have given much interesting information concerning events behind the enemy's lines according to an official dispatch received here today from France.

Although food given prisoners was termed wretched, there was plenty of wholesome food, providing one had the money to buy it from the prison stores they said. Several weeks ago, the men said, disaffection was widespread in the German ranks and all talk was of the uprising and the prospective armistice. Feeling against the Kaiser was very bitter. On this point the dispatch says:

"While the majority were indifferent as far as the emperor was concerned, there were many who were scornful and indignant against the emperor. As far back as November 6, soldiers, officers and guards spoke disparagingly of him. One man said none of the Kaiser's six sons had wound stripes, and he contrasted the ruler, because of this, with Theodore Roosevelt.

"Most of the antagonism against the ruler was among the rank and file. Some officers felt that his abdication would be a calamity to the fatherland. Almost all with whom the American aviators talked said they were tired of the war and wished to go to the United States when it was over."

FIVE BUILDINGS BURNED

Rain Checks Half-Million-Dollar Fire in Business Section of Bristol.

Bristol,Tenn.-Va.—Nov. 20.—Damage done by the big fire here early yesterday morning, which wiped out two of the largest buildings in the business district, and three smaller structures, is expected to run to half a million dollars. The Dosser Bros. department store, a new building, is a total loss. Thousands of dollars in dry goods was destroyed in the Mahoney Jones dry goods house.

Because of the headway gained by the blaze when it was discovered, the origin has not been determined. Rain falling shortly after the alarm was turned in probably saved other property, as a high wind carried sparks over the entire city.

FOOD ON WAY TO EUROPE

Ships Carrying 200,000 Tons Sail Under Sealed Orders.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Ships carrying 200,000 tons of food for the populations of Northern France, Belgium and Austria now are en route to Europe. They are proceeding under sealed orders to Gibraltar and Bristol Channel ports, and on arrival will await word from Food Administrator Hoover as to their final destinations. Those going to Gibraltar are expected to proceed to Adriatic and Mediterranean ports, and the other to French and Belgian ports.

One of the last acts of Mr. Hoover before sailing last Saturday for Europe was to appoint a special shipping committee, headed by Theodore Whitmarsh, of the Food Administration, to co-operate with the Shipping Board and the Commission for Relief in Belgium in facilitating the shipment of food to the demoralized civilian populations in the countries devastated by war.

Neither the number of ships involved in the present movement nor the proportion that would be diverted at Gibraltar for relief of Southern Europe and the Near East could be learned at the Food Administration It was stated that final arrangements for feeding the people freed from the yoke of German militarism is awaiting the arrival of Mr. Hoover in Europe and the result of his survey of the situation there.

The purpose of sending some of the ship now going to Gibraltar and others to the Bristol channel ports it was explained, was to have immediately available at convenient ports supplies to ship quickly where Mr. Hoover finds the need to be the most urgent.

DIES ON BATTLEFIELD

Lieut. John Lyon Was a Member of A. L. I. This City. Had Been in France Since July. He was a Son of Frank Lyon of Alexandria County.

John Lyon of Lyonhurst, Alexandria county, Virginia, was reported by the War Department as having been killed in action on October 16, 1918. He was a second lieutenant in the 29th Division, in the Machine Gun Company of the 116th Infantry.

Lieut. Lyon was a graduate of the Western High School, Washington, D. C., attended the University of Virginia for two years; editor of the Alexandria County Monitor for three years, at the same time attending Georgetown Law School at night, did not graduate owing to the fact that he went to France in May, just before he had completed his examinations.

He served one year with the American Ambulance Corps in France and was Assistant Editor of Forest & Stream, of New York. He entered the army through the Alexandria Light Infantry, in which he volunteered as a common soldier, was promoted from corporal to sergeant and to second lieutenant and reached France last July. He was in the midst of the fighting as early as August, and it is believed was continuously at the front to the day of his death. Upon the best information available he was in the Southern sector between Verdun and Metz where it is reported the bitterest fighting of the war has been taking place since early summer.

Although fully qualified by education and experience to become an officer he declined to do so, upon the theory that officers should be promoted from the ranks and that the experience of a common soldier was necessary for the making of an efficient officer.

He is survived by his parents and two sisters. His father, Frank Lyon, has a law office in the Colorado Building, in Washington. Lieut Lyon's entire life was spent in Washington or its immediate vicinity.

He served several years ago for a short time on the Washington Times and upon his return from service in the Ambulance Corp contributed articles to the Washington Star on the subject of the war.

While on the Mexican border he organized and edited a paper for circulation among the soldiers, which was said to be quite a success. He was also the correspondent of Richmond and Alexandria papers during the Mexican border service. He was twenty-five years of age at the time of his death.

The deceased had contributed a number of articles for the Gazette while his company was recruiting here previous to its departure for Anniston, Ala., in the interest of stimulating recruiting and also contributed articles on Camp life to this paper after his company went to Anniston.

CHOIR BOY TO BE EXECUTED

Supreme Court Affirms Conviction of Paul Chapman.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Paul Chapman, youthful choir boy of Brooklyn, under sentence for murder, will pay the penalty of his crime unless he receives executive clemency. The Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the judgment of conviction.

Chapman was convicted on February 19 last of the murder of Harry Regensburg in Brooklyn on the night of October 28, 1917, when, it was alleged, the youth was committing a burglary. Chapman at the time was barely 16 years of age.

Attorneys for the defendant argued before the Court of Appeals that his youth and his good conduct and reputation prior to the murder should be given consideration.

THE RISE OF BOLSHEVISM

The thinking people of the civilized world are at present anxious. The dangers incident to bringing about peace are always more or less in evidence, but they are probably more so now than at any time in the world's history. The planet has been freed of Prussian autocracy and militarism, but, unfortunately, there are millions in this world whose conception of Liberty is scant. The great mass erroneously suppose that Liberty and License are synonomous, and now that the war has been brought to a close and despotic governments are going to pieces here and there, these radical elements strangely imagine that this is their time to conduct the affairs of this world in accordance with the French methods at the close of the eighteenth century. The work of the leaders of the nations of the earth will be arduous in bringing such elements under proper control.

"The Menace of Bolshevism" is the headline in papers today in all capitals. It is a menace and a grave menace. The Russians— strangely dream that their doctrines should prevail in every country which has shaken off autocracy, while rash men in every country on the earth believe all authority should be obliterated. We have such people in America. They have long sought to make every man a law unto himself, and should they ever get into the majority we may look for acts in our midst calculated to make the angels weep.

The Baltimore Sun of today sounds the warning when it calls attention to present conditions. Our contemporary very truly says Bolshevism stands now for a greater menace than German autocracy ever did? For the simple reason that it represents a form of peculiar mental and moral derangement more subtle than militarism, more difficult to control when it has once spread, harder to combat because it is superficially more attractive and more misleading.

Colonel Roosevelt's suggestion that the red flag should not be permitted in political or other processions should be heeded. The Stars and Stripes are still the supreme symbol of freedom in this country, and it should not be hauled down and the red flag put in its place as the emblem of a hostile and alien spirit. We have not been fighting to make this country safe for insanity, or for those who are avowedly making war upon the American principle of equality, as well as on every principle of justice and rational social evolution.

NOVEMBER 11 FETE DAY

A resolution requesting the French Government to negotiate with the other Allies for making November 11 the day of the signing of the armistice with Germany, a holiday in the various countries, has been introduced in the chamber by Deputy Abel Lefevre. He proposes that this fete day be created in honor of "the establishment of the right of the people."

Should this movement be adopted, England will have two days in November on which to meditate, the one being the anniversary of the discovery of the Gunpowder Plot of Guy Fawkes. But the anniversary of the passing of Prussianism will ever be the most important to the world at large.

NO STATE SUPREME

The doom of the Prussian supremacy in the affairs of Germany has been sounded at Munich by Kurt Eisner, two weeks ago a revolutionary journalist and new premier of the newly formed republic of Bavaria.

"No state will be supreme in the German federation," he is quoted as saying in a proclamation to the people of Bavaria.

Premier Eisner promised in his proclamation that the rights of Bavaria will be safeguarded. He announced that Bavarian institutions would be democratized.

WORK OF RECONSTRUCTION

It is the general verdict of impartial historians that the policy of reconstruction of the Southern States carried out by the Republican party after the close of the civil war was a great and glittering failure Lincoln, a Kentuckian by birth and sympathetic to the Southern point of view in many ways, had worked out a plan of rehabilitation of the seceding States which only his untimely death prevented him from putting into execution. Andrew Johnson, a Tennesseean, who succeeded him, endeavored to carry out the plans thus formulated, and was soon in bitter conflict with the radical Republican elements in the House and Senate. These had no patience with the conciliatory ideas of Lincoln, and tried to impeach Johnson. The country was kept in an uproar for a dozen years, and the South was impoverished and embittered by the misgovernment forced b yarms upon many States.

The whole era of reconstruction, extending from 1865 to 1877, was one of the most deplorable in American history says the Philadelphia Record.

We are moved to these historical reflections by observing that the Republicans in Congress are now hot for reconstruction called for by the ending of the European war, so far as the United States is concerned. They have no time for any plans carefully worked out by President Wilson and his advisers, but want the whole job supervised by Committees of Senators and Congressmen, with Republicans in control, of course, and an abundance of patronage on the side.

The Republicans should take a lesson of warning from their own record in 1865-77.

THE PRESIDENT'S MISSION

It is suggested by a contemporary that the President has broken a good many precedents, with results on the whole advantageous to the country and the world, and his decision to attend the Peace Conference will doubtless be justified by its results.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixon Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn., —"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place, "I sufferd with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

SERVICE AT YOUR CHURCH TONIGHT

"What sort of church would my church be, "If every member were like me?"

COME AND BRING ANOTHER . . 8 P. M.

Of course, the Republicans will denounce his decision, but they would denounce anything he did, or refrained from doing.

The decision of the President is in accordance with his constitutional theory of his office; he does not regard himself as an elective king, but as a party leader, corresponding to Lloyd George and M. Clemenceau.

At the Peace Conference it is of the utmost importance that perfect unanimity should exist among the Allies. The purpose of the President may be to secure harmony on this issue before the meeting of the conference. There is every reason to believe that the same success will crown this mission of peace that has attended his leaderhip during the war.

NEWS OF THE DAY

An airplane of unidentified nationality bombed Swaelman Castle, near the ex-Crown Prince's internment place, it is reported from Amsterdam. The castle was badly damaged. There were no casualties.

The iron crosses which the former German emperor so lavishly bestowed during the war are now being sold in Germany for five pfennigs, or about one American cent, apiece, a telegram from Amsterdam says.

The British mine sweeper Ascot was torpedoed and sunk on November 10 (the day before the armistice was signed), with all aboard, the Admiralty announced last night. "Six officers and forty-seven others are missing; there are no survivors," the statement says.

Herbert C. Hoover, "food controller of the world," is expected to go directly to Berlin on his arrival in Europe. It is believed he will reach the German capital within two weeks and will immediately begin a searching inquiry into the German claim that unless the allied blockade is lifted millions of Germans will starve.

There is no confirmation in Washington of the report that the ex-Kaiser has, or is about to, return to Germany. If he does interesting developments may be expected. The new government at Berlin would, in a great measure, indicate its good faith by whatever action it took toward the former ruler of the empire.

An official dispatch from France yesterday shows how "non-German" populations are trying to be restored to the nations from which they were torn by Prussian frightfulness in its earlier days. The dispatch says "that according to north German newspapers 300 associations of the Slosvig have appealed to the republican government to obtain for the Elesvig the right to again become apart of Denmark."

Formation of a democratic popular league at Berlin is announced in a dispatch from that city. The league demands immediate convocation of a national constitutional assembly. Its leaders include Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States Dr. Walter Rathenau, long the executive head of Germany's economic force and Friederich Naumann, author of "Mittel-Europa," and prominent Liberal Reichstag leader.

The United States Supreme Court yesterday declined to review the case of Thomas Mooney, San Francisco labor leader, convicted of murder in connection with the San Francisco preparedness parade. While the court handed down no formal opinion in the Mooney case the denial was based on the fact that the court could find no Federal question to be involved in the case. The only recourse that Mooney now has left is clemency by the governor of California, who up to this time has refused to act, despite appeals directly from President Wilson.

The allies will not consent to any further modifications in the armistice terms imposed on Germany. This is the belief of officials here, formed upon reading the latest of Foreign Secretary Solf's many appeals. It is agreed that his opposition to allied occupation of the left bank of the Rhine, together with his statement "that without these modifications Germany will advance toward more or less Bolshevist conditions, which might become dangerous to neighboring states" is a subtle form of propaganda designed to make the entente nations and this government more lenient to their conquered foe.

PRESIDENT'S VISIT

During His Absence the Cabinet Will Meet Regularly and Executive Will be Kept Informed.

President Wilson in a two-hour session with members of his Cabinet yesterday discussed the preliminary plans of his trip abroad as the head of America's delegation to the peace conference.

The President, it was learned, does not believe that he will experience any difficulty in directing the affairs of the country while he is in Europe. During his absence the Cabinet will meet regularly and he will be kept constantly advised on everything of importance that transpires in Washington.

"President Wilson's presence in Europe is absolutely essential," was the declaration made yesterday upon his arrival on the British steamship Orduna by Sir Charles Ross, inventor of the Canadian service rifle and one of the largest landowners of the British empire.

"A visit to Europe by President Wilson at the present time will have a wonderful effect," added Sir Charles, who has come to America on a special mission the nature of which he declined to reveal.

The President will it is announced cross the Atlantic on the United States transport Agamemnon, formerly the North German Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm II, according to information received by the Evening World last night from a reliable source.

This ship is faster than the Leviathan, formerly the Hamburg-American liner Vaterland, and her passenger accommodations are better.

The imperial suite of the Agamemnon, once occupied by the Kaiser on a cruise, will be used by President and Mrs. Wilson, it is said.

The work of getting the Agamemnon ready has already begun.

The Kaiser Wilhelm II was a sister ship of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, now the Mount Vernon, holder of the German trans-Atlantic record.

Both these vessels before the war could maintain an average speed of 22 knots, and it is said that under American engineers and their crews their speed has increased considerably.

FRENCH ENTER METZ

Capital of Lorraine Gives Enthusiastic Reception to Their Deliverers.

Paris, Nov. 20.—French troops under command of Marshal Petain entered Metz, the capital of Lorraine, yesterday morning amidst great enthusiasm on the part of the population, according to an official statement from the War Office today.

French advance guards Monday entered the town of St. Louis, opposite Basle, Switzerland.

A brigade of cavalry carbineers has pushed ahead of the main Belgian Army marching on Brussels so as to preserve order there, according to an official statement from the Belgian War Office Company. Some ammunition depots in Brussels have been blown up. These were at the Northern, Southern and Schaerbeek railway stations.

An impressive ceremony took place Monday in the town hall of Havre, when the Belgian Government, which has been in Havre since the fall of 1914, took leave of the municipal authorities. The departments of the Belgian Government are being transferred to liberated Belgium.

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it for them sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but has to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

GERMANS CHEER BELGIANS

Demonstrations by Invaders Who Join in Singing the "Marseillaise."

Paris, Nov. 2—Demonstrations by the German soldiers in Brussels on Sunday, November 10, the day before the armistice with Germany was signed, are described in the Journal la Belgique, a newspaper published in Brussels for four years under control of the German censorship, in its issue of November 11.

Thousands of soldiers without arms gathered in front of the North station, and formed a procession, which marched through the North boulevard, carrying red and French flags. The populace, at first dumb with astonishment at the strange sight, enthusiastically cheered the soldiers carrying the French tricolor, and shouting, "Hurrah for Belgium. Hurrah for France!"

The procession halted at the palace of justice, where a meeting was organized and a banner raised, on which was inscribed: "Comrades, do not fight any more. Do not shoot."

A Belgian demonstration was then organized, in which the German soldiers joined with the Belgians in singing the "Brabanconne" and the "Marseillaise." An automobile truck, carrying German marines, and decorated with Belgian flags, appeared on the Grand place, where one of the marines spoke in praise of the Belgian king and his people.

An automobile in which were some German superior officers was halted by soldiers, who tore the epaulettes from the officers' shoulders. The demonstration continued throughout the afternoon and evening.
